“Earle Architects have produced an imaginative design which meets all our requirements. The team have been proactive and accommodating.”

London Borough of Hackney

Tolworth Court Sports Pavilion

“I have found [Earle Architects’] work to be innovative and creative, whilst maintaining an eye for detail. I have also been pleased that [they] have an appreciation for the need to control the costs of the project as a whole within agreed budgets. They have produced designs that are attractive and functional, at the same time as utilising materials that are cost effective.”

finnCap: 50 New Broad Street

"I would like to express our sincere thanks to [Earle Architects] for the superb job [they] have done on our new office. It is still hard to believe that [they] completed this project in 7 weeks and we are delighted with the results. [They] managed to design it exactly as I had pictured it and it really represents finnCap! [Earle Architects] really made the process run as smoothly as possible and [they] were a great help within the design and management of the project.

73-75 Stamford Street

“From the outset [Earle Architects] approached the job in a relaxed, but very professional manner, and they have worked very well with us to meet our specific design requirements and tight funding constraints. Earle Architects have also impressed us in the way they have liaised with the local planning department, which resulted in the scheme obtaining planning permission with no onerous conditions.”

Thames Reach

Ritzy Picturehouse

“Earle Architects were able to help us navigate swiftly through the myriad planning and listed building processes, and their help through to final handover was key in realising this important project on time and in budget.”
